

So you have Google Analytics for your website traffic, now what? How often do you review it? What are the key take-aways, and what statistics are most relevant for your business?

Enradius can help you through the process. Need to pull reports for your company – Let us do it for you.

We have developed a few programs that will help assist you with your monthly, weekly or even daily reporting needs if you so desire.

Enradius can be a part-time deeper digital dive for your organization. We can help with the following items or whatever you have in mind.

Collect baseline traffic data

Identify desired goals and set up tracking

Report on overachieving and under performing traffic, location data, demographics, interests, and other notable insights
